DATE: May 4, 2017

SUBJECT: Continuing Education – June 2017

With the summer weather finally approaching, we will review environmental emergencies that may be encountered. That said, during the month of June we will present an up-front lecture highlighting many common (and some less common) emergencies that may arise as the temperature increases. We will once again use scenario based training to further the learning experience through hands-on application.

In preparation for June CE I ask that you take time to review the following protocols:

- Tab 900; (Section D) Allergic Reaction
- Tab 900; (Section G) Bites and Envenomation's
- Tab 900; (Section P) Hyperthermia

I look forward to seeing you in the coming month. If you have any questions or comments please feel free to contact Brent, Aislinn or myself.
